Why Not Get That Boy

a suit of clothes instead of a gun or a rocking horse, especially if he is son or nephew of yours!

He'll like it just as well and look how much more useful it will be to him.

We are carrying a large line of Boys' Woolen and Wash Suits in all the popular styles. Prices $2.50 up.

Ehlers' for Useful Gifts

A Merchandise Order

Can be obtained for any amount from $1 up and is good in all departments; an easy way to make a gift.

Those New York Hats

Arriving last week have made the greatest hit of any display we have ever made.

The reason is plain—they are HATS, not merely exaggerations, as so many recent seasons have brought forth.

You will like the styles of these—in fact, you will find just the hat you have had in mind.

The prices will surprise you—in a different way from the usual millinery way—they are more than reasonable.

A Glove Order

Enables the recipient to select just the kind and color of glove she needs to match her costume; for sale at our glove counter.

Leather Bags, Purses, etc.

We have recently enlarged this department and started things off right with a heavy Christmas importation.

In hand bags, we are showing many styles in calf, seal, alligator, etc. in all sizes up to 18 inch; we also carry an excellent line of grips and suit cases.

In fancy leather goods will be found collar bags, travelers' hanger cases, traveling cases for toilet articles, writing cases, etc., all useful and handsome articles.

Silk or Kid Gloves

Are always acceptable to Miss or Madam; a woman never has too many gloves.

We are showing many of the best makes, including Dent's, Fownes' and Keyser's, in all lengths and colors.

Neckwear, belts, handkerchiefs and hosiery in the latest makes.

Our Men's Neckwear

this Christmas surpasses all previous showings, and we believe it is the best popular priced assortment that can be found in the city.

Bows, strings and four-in-hands in many late styles and popular shades; of the four-in-hands we are showing three widths, and with both finished and flowing ends.

We are also showing a pretty line of combination boxes of tie, hose and suspenders to match.

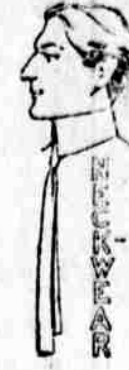

Ladies' and Misses' Coats

Our display of these embraces all that's being worn now—silk, woolen and rubberized satin.

In the woolen coats we are showing some light weight Cravenette Serges, which of course are waterproof; also some heavier satin-lined traveling coats for anyone leaving the islands.

In silk, among others, we are showing some imported embroidered cape-coats, pongees and other silks, which are beautiful; rubberized satin continues popular. We have plain and striped in all colors.

SOCIAL CHATTER AND HOME TALK

The three weddings that will take place the first of the year are absorbing the interest of the smart set of Honolulu. The fact that these three prospective brides are all popular society girls, adds a zest to the affairs. Two of the weddings will take place the first week in January. Miss Elsa Schaefer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Schaefer, will wed Mr. J. W. Waldron on Tuesday, January the fourth, at high noon. The ceremony will take place at St. Andrew's Cathedral, and be performed by Canon Edward Simpson of the Episcopal church. Miss Elsa Schaefer will be attended by her sister, Miss Pauline, who will act as maid of honor, and will have four little flower girls. Mr. Waldron, the fiancé of Miss Schaefer, has chosen Mr. Sinclair to stand up with him.

Miss Iwalei Jaeger will be married the latter part of the month. Her wedding will probably be a home affair, simplicity and lack of ostentation will mark the wedding arrangements, but an artistic attention to detail will furnish a dainty floral setting for the bridal party.

Miss Adele Dreier will make the third bride, her wedding taking place on the fifth of January at St. Augustine chapel, at Walkiki. Miss Dreier is a tall, willowy brunette, with hazel eyes and brown hair. Miss Dreier's wedding gown and entire trousseau is being made in Honolulu. These gowns are particularly beautiful, the wedding gown and the maid-of-honor gown, to be worn by Miss Irene Dixon, will in themselves afford the elaborate note to the beautiful church wedding. The decorations for this wedding will be white and green. Ernest Parker and Jimmy McGuire will have charge and a number of novelties will be introduced in the decorative line. Mr. Hugo Herser will be the soloist of the evening. This young man possesses a wonderful baritone voice, and it will be a treat to hear him. Four of the prettiest little girls have been chosen as flower girls. They are little Miss Irene Holt, Miss Laura Low, Miss Rosalie Davidson and Miss Emily McGoon. The ushers will be Mr. William A. Dixon, Mr. Arthur Mackintosh, Mr. George Fuller and Mr. Clarence Waterman. Mr. Sam Walker will act as best man. The impressive Roman Catholic ceremony that will unite this young couple as man and wife will take place at eight o'clock, to be followed by a reception at the beautiful Dreier home, on Boretania avenue, from 8:30 to 10 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. von Damm's Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. von Damm entertained at a midday dinner last Sunday in honor of four of the officers of the Arconia. Covers were laid for eight, and the table decorations were scarlet carnations. Miss Alameda Townsend and Miss Wickstrum, two society girls, were asked to meet these charming officers. Later in the afternoon the party went surf riding at the Moana hotel. After surfing and swimming in the briny deep for several hours the party motored to the Arconia and dined on board this hospitable ship.

Mr. F. A. Schaefer's Stag Dinner.

Saturday evening the Italian Consul Mr. F. A. Schaefer was the host at a delightful stag dinner in honor of Captain Schroeder and Officers of the German ship Arconia. Mr. and Mrs. Berndt Wooden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Berndt celebrated the 5th anniversary of their wedding last Wednesday evening in a most novel fashion. About twenty guests were invited to play bridge whilst, the scheme of the decorations was planned to carry out the celebration, which was their wooden wedding. The host and hostess received their guests under a canopy of wooden shavings. In fact the house was decorated in this novel decoration, even the chandeliers and electric lights were covered with shavings. The arch ways between the library dining room and drawing room was strung with Japanese wooden lanterns, lighted with electricity, producing a pretty effect. Progressive bridge was chosen the game to entertain their guests. All the prizes were of wood, which carried out the wooden idea. Mrs. Zeno K. Myers won the first woman's prize, a polished glove box of Flemish oak. Mrs. Fred Waldron was awarded the boo-boo prize a gilded wooden spoon. Mr. Z. K. Myers was the fortunate winner of the men's prize, a handsome oak stem rack, with a center panel of blue delf. Mr. Wallace Farrington captured the men's boo-boo prize a sandal wood puzzle. At eleven o'clock delicious refreshments were served at small tables. Among Mr. and Mrs. Berndt's guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Zeno K. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Farrington, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Tarleton, Mr. and Mrs. Marston Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Berndt, Mrs. L. Berndt and Mrs. E. Dimond and Mr. Fritz Baering.

Dinner on the Arconia.

One of the most elaborate dinners of the week, was the function given by the gallant Captain of the Arconia. Captain Schroeder who is a finished artist in entertaining, surpassed himself Monday evening at the stag dinner at which he acted as host. Covers were laid for twelve and the table was adorned with orchids, the place cards were snap shots taken of the Arconia, mounted on dull red with the name Arconia in raised gold letters. Five officers from the wardroom were invited to join in the festivities, and the following guests from ashore were invited: Admiral Corwin P. Rees, Mr. P. A.

Schaefer, Mr. Pfotenbauer, Acting Governor Mott-Smith, Doctor Walter Hoffman and Pastor Felmy.

Mrs. Kiebahn's Dinner.

Miss Elsa Schaefer, who will be one of the January brides, was the complimented guest at a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Kiebahn at their home on Pilko street, Tuesday evening. Long stemmed American beauty roses, formed the decoration for the table, these flowers were arranged artistically, and gave a charming effect, combined with seafoam green tulle. Ten guests were seated at the oblong table, each place being reserved by dainty place cards. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Kiebahn, Miss Elsa Schaefer, Miss Irmgard Schaefer, Miss Eleanor Waterhouse, Mr. George Fuller, Mr. Frank Armstrong, Mrs. J. W. Waldron and Mr. Bayer of Hackfeld & Co.

Luncheon at Pacific Club.

The Pacific Club was the setting of a most elaborate luncheon on Sunday last, when Mr. W. Pfotenbauer entertained in honor of Captain Schroeder and the senior officers of the Cruiser Arconia. The table decorations were red carnations; at one o'clock an elaborate repast was served, after luncheon the party motored through the beautiful suburbs of Honolulu.

Mr. and Mrs. John Guild's Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Murdoch were the complimented guests Wednesday evening at a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. John Guild at their home on College street. The table was a mass of sweet scented purple violets with hand painted place cards tied with violet satin ribbon. Only the guest of honors most intimate friends were invited; Mrs. John Guild looked charming in a white embroidered lingerie frock. Mrs. Duncan Murdoch was beautiful in a pink messaline, cut in the latest mode. Mrs. Erdman Baldwin wore a yellow chiffon with embroidered trimming. Mrs. Charles Baldwin looked handsome in a lace frock. Among those present beside the host and hostess were: Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Murdoch, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murdoch, Mr. and Mrs. Erdman Baldwin, Mrs. Helen Marks and Mr. Will Baldwin of Haku, Maui.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Paul Haag's Dinner.

Thursday evening, Mr. and Mrs. C. Paul Haag entertained at dinner at the Moana in honor of Mr. Clarence Granger and his sister-in-law Miss Swett. The table was decorated in red carnations and maiden hair, with dainty hand painted place card to match. Mrs. Haag looked stunning in an imported gown of pale blue, with embellishments of lace. Mrs. Gustav Schaefer was clad in a maize silk, with an over dress of net of the same color, heavily embroidered. Miss Swett was a dream in a princess empire satin in the new shade of blue, heavily fringed and embroidered. After dinner the host and hostess and their guests, participated in the hop, which was given that evening at the Moana, in honor of the passengers of the Tenyo Maru.

Mr. Lanz Stag Dinner. Mr. W. Lanz entertained informally Monday evening in honor of the wardroom officers of the Arconia.

Captain Schroeder's Tea.

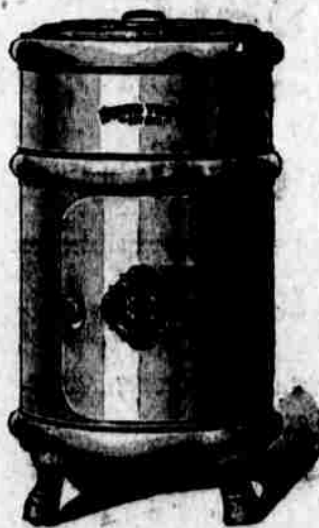

Captain Schroeder entertained informally at tea, Monday afternoon on his ship the Arconia. The ship was bedecked in flags and pennants; the guests were invited for four o'clock, and tea, loaves, cakes and sandwiches were served in the Captain's cabin, which was a bower of pink roses and maiden hair. Only the fair sex was included in the Captain's invitation, many smart frocks were observed and scores of pretty women were present. Among those present were: Mrs. Corwin P. Rees, wife of Admiral Rees, Mrs. Ernest Mott-Smith, wife of the Acting Governor, Mrs. Charles Walte, Mrs. Walter Hoffman, Mrs. Du Rol, Mrs. George Rodiek, Mrs. Haneberg, Mrs. Humberg, Miss Irma Ballentine, Miss Irmgard Schaefer, Miss Ballentine, Miss Kopke and many others.

Mr. Clarence Grange of San Francisco was a through passenger on the Tenyo Maru. Mr. Grange who is vice-president and manager of the Metropolitan Trust Co. and also is connected in an official capacity with the Western National Bank of San Francisco, is well known in both business and social circles of Honolulu, having visited the Paradise of the Pacific a number of times. Mr. Grange is returning from a two months' pleasure trip to Japan.

A Gift That Women Appreciate

Is one that combines Beauty and Usfulness

The Great White Frost Refrigerator

Has these two features as Christmas Gift to a marked degree. The White Frost is a beauty that every woman is proud to have in her home. But aside from its appearance, it has points that attach it to the owner more strongly. Of this refrigerator the question "Is there a perfect refrigerator made?" can be truthfully answered in the affirmative. Because it is a metallic refrigerator made entirely of galvanized sheet steel, with solid brass trimmings. Because there is not one stick of wood as large as a tooth-pick connected with it in any manner. Because it is coated with white enamel inside and out (excepting ice-chamber). Because, after it has been coated with said white enamel, it is placed in an oven of high temperatures and the enamel thoroughly baked on. Because it is cylindrical in form, and has no nasty corners to dig out. CONVENIENCE. It is the handiest refrigerator made. During the Holidays special inducements will be given buyers of this refrigerator. Because steel will not shrink swell, warp or decay. Because it has revolving shelves.

Coyne Furniture Co., Young Bld.

Dear Bob:—I want you to buy me a WHITE FROST.
